The Collaborative Research Centre (CRC) 948 „Heroes – Heroisations – Heroisms“ at the Albert-Ludwigs-University of Freiburg is offering

two scholarships (of six to twelve months each), starting September 1, 2013, in the Research Training Group of the CRC for PhD students.

The CRC 948 is funded by Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft, with 36 scholars (14 out of whom are doctoral candidates) working in the fields of literary studies, history, art history, social sciences and musicology. The scholarships offer the opportunity to pursue research for PhD projects for up to one year within the thematic framework of the CRC.

International applicants with outstanding research potential are particularly welcome. They are expected to participate in the lectures and colloquiums of the CRC and the Research Training Group. Graduates with a degree in any of the fields of history, literary studies, art history, classical archaeology, sociology, or musicology are very welcome to apply. Scholarship holders are expected to participate in the activities of the CRC subproject most relevant for their research.

Please find more details on the research programme of the CRC and the qualification programme of the Research Training Group online: www.sfb948.uni-freiburg.de.

The scholarship is 1,365 Euros per month with a grant of 103 Euros for material costs in addition. Working space in the rooms of the CRC is available. The working language of the CRC is German. The candidates’ knowledge of German should be at B2/C1 level measured on the Common European Framework of Reference.

Please send your email application with a CV, academic certification, an outline of your project (5 pages maximum) and a statement by a professor or university lecturer by May 31, 2013, to the coordinator of the Research Training Group, Ulrike Zimmermann: ulrike.zimmermann@sfb948.uni-freiburg.de. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact her.